Introduction

Schwab provides a broad range of value-added services, some of which have associated fees. This document provides you with an overview of standard pricing for commission rates, transaction fees, and key account charges and service fees.

Information detailed in this guide also applies to international clients (clients residing, or who later move, outside the U.S., its territories and possessions). Commissions and fees described in this guide are stated in U.S. dollars. Not all products and services are available in all countries, and may be subject to country-specific restrictions. A separate pricing guide applies to clients associated with Charles Schwab, Hong Kong, Ltd.

Certain clients may have a different pricing structure based on assets or activities in their accounts at Schwab.

Definitions

Accounts of Your Household—Accounts that have been linked in accordance with Schwab’s householding guidelines. Schwab makes a reasonable effort to automatically link qualified accounts of persons with the same last name at the same home address, including accounts held at certain Schwab affiliates.

Schwab aggregates the balances and activities of Accounts of Your Household to determine for your brokerage accounts: whether those accounts may qualify for certain fee waivers, and whether those accounts may qualify for certain benefits or features (“Household Calculations”).

Schwab may consider other accounts to be in your household upon your request if account holders are in the same family, there is a dependent relationship, or in certain other similar instances at Schwab’s discretion. You are responsible for identifying accounts that should be linked for purposes of determining Accounts of Your Household and Household Calculations. For example, if you or other members of your family who reside at your home address have a different last name (including a spouse, if applicable), you need to contact Schwab to request that we combine your accounts for purposes of Household Calculations. If an account is added to Accounts of Your Household, any impact on Household Calculations may not take effect until the following quarter.

Householding rules applicable to fiduciary accounts are as follows: IRA, Custodial and certain Trust accounts that meet Schwab's householding guidelines generally will be automatically included in Accounts of Your Household and Household Calculations. If you have an IRA, Custodial or Trust account and you are acting in a fiduciary capacity, it is your responsibility and not Schwab's to consider whether it is appropriate to consider the balances and activities of that account in Household Calculations, which could benefit the fiduciary account and/or other Accounts of Your Household. You must contact Schwab to request that the balances and activities of your fiduciary account not be included in Accounts of Your Household and Household Calculations if you determine that it is not appropriate.

Qualified Retirement Plan (QRP), Keogh, Company Retirement Account (CRA), Pension Trust, Individual 401(k) and 403(b)(7) accounts (collectively, "Retirement Plan Accounts") are not automatically included in Household Calculations. However, for certain services, the account holder of the Retirement Plan Account may elect to include the Retirement Plan Account in Accounts of Your Household and Household Calculations by providing Schwab with written instructions to do so. Please contact Schwab for the required form.

Automated Phone Trades—Trades placed through Schwab by Phone™ and TeleBroker®.

Direct Access—A feature that allows trades to be placed directly through an electronic communications network, market maker or exchange.

Household Balance—The total aggregate balance, over a given period of time, of the assets and certain liabilities in Accounts of Your Household. In order to determine qualification for any fee waiver presented in the Pricing Guide for Individual Investors, Schwab will add up your daily Household Balances for the applicable time period, then divide this total by the number of days in the period.

Minimum Deposit Requirement—The minimum amount that must be deposited and maintained in an account to avoid account closure. For Schwab One International® Accounts, the amount that must be maintained in an account is $1,000—lower than the Minimum Deposit Requirement.

Online Trades—Trades placed through Schwab.com (which includes international.schwab.com, schwab.com.hk, and the Chinese-language version of Schwab.com), StreetSmart.com[®], StreetSmart Pro[®], StreetSmart Edge[®], StreetSmart Central[®], StreetSmart Mobile[®], Schwab Mobile, or Schwab software.

When trading as principal, Schwab may also be holding the security in its own account prior to selling it to you and, therefore, may make (or lose) money depending on whether the price of the security has risen or fallen while Schwab has held it. Special Service Fees Exchange Process Fee—This is a fee Schwab charges to offset fees imposed on us directly or indirectly by national securities exchanges, self-regulatory organizations, or U.S. option exchanges. Schwab shall have the right to determine the amount of such fees in its reasonable discretion, and such fees may differ from or exceed the actual third-party fees properly paid by Schwab in connection with any transaction. These differences may be caused by various internal and external factors, including, among other things, the rounding methodology used, the use of allocation accounts, transactions or settlement movements for which a fee may not be assessed, timing differences in changes, third-party rate caps and floors, calculation errors, and various other anomalous reasons.

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) assesses transaction fees on national securities exchanges and self-regulatory organizations based on the aggregate dollar amount of sales of certain securities. The SEC recalculates the amount of this fee periodically—at least once per year but sometimes more often. National securities exchanges and self-regulatory organizations offset the transaction fees by charging their member broker-dealers such as Schwab, and we, in turn, offset this fee by charging you an Exchange Process Fee for covered sell transactions.

U.S. option exchanges charge Schwab and other broker-dealers per-contract fees for purchases and sales of exchange-listed options. The exchanges may charge these fees even on transactions executed on other exchanges, which can result in multiple fees being imposed on Schwab for a single transaction. Schwab offsets these fees by charging you a single Exchange Process Fee for each covered transaction.

Any Exchange Process Fee that appears on your trade confirmation for a sale of an exchange-listed option combines the offsets for the fees charged by the U.S. option exchanges, national securities exchanges, and self-regulatory organizations.

Schwab's Exchange Process Fee will rise or fall periodically depending upon the rates set by the SEC, self-regulatory organizations or by the U.S. option exchanges, as applicable.

Exchange Process Fee for American Depositary Receipts (ADR)—This is a fee Schwab charges to offset fees imposed on us by executing brokers. It is associated with transaction taxes assessed by certain governments as a percentage of the purchase amount on certain securities, and the rate is subject to change. The fee will appear as an “Exchange Process Fee” on your trade confirmation.

American Depositary Receipt (ADR) Fee—Banks that custody ADRs are permitted to charge ADR holders a fee. Fees collected from Schwab by the Depository Trust Company for an ADR will be automatically deducted from your Schwab account(s) and shown on your account statement(s) as “ADR Pass-Thru Fee.”

Transaction Fee—This fee includes either fees charged for purchases and sales of certain mutual fund shares or fees charged for purchasing U.S. Treasury obligations via the auction process. The amount of this fee will appear on your trade confirmation.

Delivery Fee—Schwab assesses a $100 per-contract fee to offset costs associated with client transactions to make or take delivery of a physically deliverable commodity. In addition, other fees not assessed by Schwab can be passed through to you, including, but not limited to, fees charged by our clearing firms and others for commodity handling, inspections, storage and warehousing, delivery financing, etc. Some fees can be one-time delivery-related fees, while others can be recurring fees assessed at periodic intervals. You will see such fees itemized on your Schwab trade confirmations and account statements for your futures account. Delivery-related fees are subject to change without notice.

Special Service Fee Waivers

- Fees to order out physical certificates: Fees can be waived for households that meet certain asset levels.
- Wire transfer fee: With $100,000 or more in Household Balances, you will receive three free online domestic wire transfers per quarter.
- Overnight delivery fee for Schwab-issued check requests: With $1,000,000 or more in Household Balances, overnight delivery fees for Schwab-issued checks will be waived.

Endnotes

¹Excluding mutual funds, commissionable trades that execute over more than one day will be charged a separate commission for each additional day; each separate commission will apply to the portion of the trade executed on the corresponding additional day. Trade orders for which price or quantity are changed by the client and, as a result, execute over multiple trades on the same day are each charged a separate commission.

²Up to 999,999 shares can be placed per trade.

³Transactions for foreign ordinary shares incur additional custody, clearing, and settlement expenses. A foreign transaction fee is added to trades placed on the U.S. over-the-counter (OTC) market through all channels. The commission and foreign transaction fee will be combined and will appear as one line item, labeled "Commission," on your trade confirmation.

⁴Schwab's short-term redemption fee will be charged on redemption of funds purchased through Schwab's Mutual Fund OneSource® service (and certain other funds with no transaction fee) and held for 90 days or less. Schwab reserves the right to exempt some funds from this fee, including certain Schwab Funds®, which can charge a separate redemption fee, and funds that accommodate short-term trading.
